may charge cancellation fees or other charges in connection with the termination of your current service contract.

When ordering our Services, you must provide a valid email address and you are responsible for maintaining and regularly checking this email address. You can update details of your email address by letting us know. We'll use this email address to contact you for all purposes under these Terms.

Once you have placed your order, we'll let you know that it has been received. Do bear in mind that by placing your order you are making an offer to enter into a contract with us for the purchase of the relevant Services from us under these Terms, the terms of your order, and any other terms specified by us. We'll acknowledge receipt of your order and contact you if we are able to accept your offer. Upon our acceptance of your order you enter into a contract with us for the purchase of the particular Services and Equipment.

You agree that we can immediately start work on the technical and operational elements required for the provision of the Services and Equipment upon the issuance of our order acceptance. At the time of acceptance we'll provide you with further details of when we expect to be able to process your order. If we have begun work on your order, but you decide to cancel your order, we may require you to pay us an amount proportionate to any services which we have provided to you up until the cancellation date.

Please be advised that by placing an order, you agree that we, or third parties acting on our behalf, may carry out credit checks on you using the information that you provide.

What Equipment does V4 Telecom provide?

In most cases the Equipment that you order on the Order Form or through our Website will be provided by a third party hire purchase company and you will enter into a contract directly with them to lease the Equipment. You will be informed whether the Equipment is being provided by V4 or a third party on the lease agreement. Where we provide any Equipment without cost directly to you, we agree to loan the Equipment to you for as long as you continue to receive the Services under these Terms. Risk shall pass to you upon delivery but the Equipment shall remain our property and you agree to suitably insure it while it is loaned to you.

Where you purchase Equipment from us, risk shall pass to you upon delivery but the Equipment shall remain our property until such time as payment is received in full in respect of the Equipment. We shall have no liability in respect of Equipment lost or damaged in transit unless and until you note such loss or damage within 5 working days of delivery or expected delivery.

Upon termination of these Terms or the relevant service as appropriate, any loaned Equipment must be returned to: V4 Telecom Limited, Cash's Business Centre, 228 Widdrington Road, Coventry CV1 4PB.

Any Equipment not returned to us will be billed to you as a Fee at the recommend retail price for the missing Equipment. Please note that if you choose to keep any Equipment after we stop providing Services, it is supplied to you 'as is', without warranty and without support.

If your Equipment is faulty, regardless as to whether it is provided by us or leased by a third party, we will make arrangements for the repair or replacement of that Equipment during the first 12 months without charge, providing the fault is not caused by abuse or negligence while in your care. Except for faults or defects within the first 12 months, replacement items of Equipment are available on payment of the applicable replacement items Fee(s). You will need to return any faulty or replaced items of Equipment to: V4 Telecom, Cash's Business Centre, 228 Widdrington Road, Coventry CV1 4PB. For the avoidance of doubt, subject to faults within the first 12 months, should you lease the Equipment from a third party they will be responsible for rectifying any fault or defect with the Equipment.

You will need to ensure that suitable mains electricity, power over Ethernet and network cabling are available as applicable where you would like the Equipment to be installed.

Any Business hardware, post 12-months from date of original order received from Manufacturer is no longer within manufacturer's warranty & any faults or replacement hardware will be chargeable upfront separately unless stated otherwise. V4, as a part of its supply, has access to a range of latest business hardware & technology items made available at no upfront capital outlay to a customer based on the type of solution ordered

How do you get connected?

For our Telephony Service, we'll preconfigure and dispatch any Equipment to you. Where you wish to port numbers, we'll advise you on if that's possible and how long it will take. If we are transferring an existing telephone line, we'll let you know how long that will take. If we are installing a new telephone line, an engineer will need to come and install it and we'll provide you with the details. Obviously you agree to provide any reasonable cooperation and assistance that may be required to get you connected, including access to the site and any other reasonable requests which we make. It's important that you don't miss any appointments as we pass any such charges on to you, as detailed in the section 'Admin fee list'.

For our Broadband Service, we'll either provision it on a telephone line that we are also installing or on an existing line and preconfigure and dispatch any Equipment to you. We'll try to make sure that you get the fastest broadband internet connection possible, but the actual speed will depend on your actual line (e.g. the distance of your premises from the telephone exchange, the quality of your copper line and environmental line noise will all impact your actual speeds), so we cannot guarantee that your connection will reach any specific speeds.

For our Mobile Service, we will dispatch your SIMs to you and any other Equipment that you have ordered.

For our Leased Line Service, please see the section 'What do I need to know about the Leased Line Service?'

If after receiving or accepting your order, we cannot provide you with a particular Service, we'll notify you. That particular Service will terminate in respect of these Terms and any Fees you have paid will be refunded to you.

Please also be advised that we have the right to terminate these Terms without liability after confirmation of acceptance has been sent but before you have been connected if: (a) you fail a credit check; (b) we are not able to provide our Services to your premises by the expected connection date for any reason; or (c) if you are not in a geographical area covered by us. If we end these Terms before connection (other than as a result of your own act or omission), any Fees you have paid will be refunded to you.

A consumer will, subject to any exceptions or exclusions set out in the Consumer Protection (Distance Selling) Regulations 2000, be entitled to cancel the Services and/or return the Equipment by serving written notice of cancellation to us within fourteen days of either receiving the Equipment from us or after the date upon which you enter into these Terms with us. In such event, you must return all the Equipment to us at your own cost. If you cancel a contract within fourteen days of receiving the Equipment from us or the date upon which you enter into these Terms, we will refund to you all payments received from you, including the costs of delivery of any Equipment you ordered. However, if you requested that the Service(s) begin immediately, you must pay us an amount which is proportionate to the Service(s) provided up to the point you cancelled your order. A consumer will not be entitled to cancel these Terms for the supply of Services after the fourteen day cancellation period once performance of the Services has started, save as where permitted under these Terms (see the section 'What is the contract period and how does it end?')

Where you receive our Services and/or Equipment not as a consumer (that is, within the course of a trade or business), no Equipment supplied by us shall be accepted for return without our prior consent. You must agree to pay the cancellation fees which is the monthly fee times the remaining months to terminate a Service or these Terms, such fee being the costs to us of cancelling a Service or these Terms.

You agree to use our Services for your own use only and not to resell any Service without our written permission.

What is the contract period and how does it end?

The Services you order are subject to the 'Minimum Term' as set out on the Order Form or on our Website when you order. The standard Minimum Term for the Services is twenty four months unless otherwise stated. The Minimum Term for each Service starts from the date that that respective Service is fully provisioned or activated. After the minimum term has expired, the Services will roll on a monthly basis until either party cancels the contract.

You must keep the Services you have chosen for the duration of the Minimum Term, unless you or we are allowed to end this contract earlier. If your contract ends during the Minimum Term (other than where you have a right to end it without incurring early termination charges' (see section 'What are V4 Telecoms payment terms and charges?') we may charge you a cancellation fee. Unless you tell us otherwise, we may charge this amount directly to any credit or debit card which you have provided us with details of and, by entering into this contract, you are authorising us to do so. We will give you reasonable notice in writing before these charges are made.

After the Minimum Term for a Service has elapsed, you can terminate that Service at any time without paying any cancellation Fees, providing you give us one (1) months' notice of termination. Any such cancellation Fees will not exceed the charges you would have paid for the remainder of the services less our costs.

We alone may terminate these Terms, terminate a particular Service or suspend Services if you don't pay us by the due date any money you owe us; or you misuse our Service; or we suspect any fraudulent use; or if we are required to do so by a competent or regulatory authority or network provider We will not refund any fees paid by you under these Terms if we end these Terms or terminate a Service under this Condition. There may be a reconnection charge if we suspend your Service.

If we are entitled to suspend your Service then all Fees for your Service will remain payable by you notwithstanding such suspension. If we are entitled to terminate your Service (other than without cause), then we will be entitled to charge you for the Fees which would have been payable to us as if you had provided us with a termination notice on the date of such termination.

Either you or us may terminate these Terms by giving thirty (30) days' written notice to the other:

if there has been a material breach of these Terms by the other party and this isn't remedied within fourteen (14) days of a written notice notifying the breach; we increase your payments, unless such increase arises under the section 'What are V4 Telecoms payment terms and charges?'. if an event, outside its reasonable control, prevents continued provision of the Services for more than thirty (30) days; if the other is unable to pay its debts (within the meaning of section 123 of the Insolvency Act 1986); or becomes insolvent or bankrupt; or is subject to an order or a resolution for its liquidation, administration, winding-up or dissolution (otherwise than for the purposes of a solvent amalgamation or reconstruction); or makes an application to a court of competent jurisdiction for protection from its creditors generally; or has an administrative or other receiver, manager, trustee, liquidator, administrator or similar officer appointed over all or any substantial part of its assets; or enters into or proposes any composition or arrangement with its creditors generally; or is subject to any analogous event or proceeding in any applicable jurisdiction.

V4 Telecom invoices are emailed or mailed to your premises during the 1st week of each calendar month. You have a responsibility to pay the Fees that apply to the Services you're receiving from us. These Fees are in British pounds sterling and payable from the day that the Services are installed or provisioned. Recurring Fees will be collected monthly in advance, while one-off fees will be collected in arrears. Our invoices are due 10 days after the invoice date. We'll collect the amount invoiced to you via direct debit on or shortly after the due date.

Our call charges are set out in our tariff on our Website and all calls you make will be subject to this tariff unless otherwise agreed in writing with us.

Please note that we charge £15.99 per month if you don't pay via direct debit.

Unless we increase our prices for any of the reasons set out in this section, you can also end the contract during the Minimum Term if we increase our Fees. If you wish to end this contract for these reasons, then you need to let us know within 30 days of notice of the change (sections 'What is the contract period and how does it end?').

We may also increase your payments if required by law or if any regulatory authority requests or requires a change to any aspect of our pricing, including to reflect a change in the rate of VAT or other applicable taxation charge or levy, which affects the Services directly or our pricing structure generally. We will use our reasonable endeavours to notify you before any price increase takes effect under this section.

You must pay us all sums due to us in full and you cannot deduct or withhold any part of the sums you owe us, except as permitted by law. Please be advised that in the event of us not receiving full payment for Services provided, we have the right to suspend or terminate your Services and take any steps necessary to recover the amount due (including any costs incurred collecting the funds owed). There will be an additional cost incurred once account is passed over to external debt collection agency.

All prices shown on our Website and Order Forms are exclusive of VAT and our invoices show VAT payable as a separate item on each invoice. In any event you are liable to pay VAT on all Services provided.

What happens if there are Service interruptions?

We'll take reasonable measures to rectify any interruptions or faults in the Services that we provide. However, we cannot be held responsible for disruptions caused as a result of war, strikes, natural disasters or other 'acts of God' and shall not be liable for any delay or failure in the performance of its obligations to the extent that such delay or failure is attributable to matters beyond our reasonable control.

We or our network providers may need to make changes to a network or the technical specification of a Service or may need to suspend provision of the Services for operational or technical reasons. We'll use all reasonable endeavours to notify you in advance of such changes or suspension if it materially affects your Services. Obviously we'll do everything which is reasonably within our power to minimise the effect of these disruptions on you and restore the Service as soon as we can.

It is technically impossible for us to provide fault-free Services at all times. But, we're committed to providing you with Services that have as few disruptions as possible. We cannot guarantee the quality and coverage of our mobile network providers' wireless network or signal strength.

What do I need to know about Voice over IP (VoIP) Telephony Service?

By purchasing our Telephony Service, you must understand that there are some limitations of VoIP technology:

It may not offer all of the features you may expect from a conventional phone line. It may sometimes be unavailable as a result of things over which we have no control (e.g. the weather, loss of power, failures of your internet connection) and you understand that in such circumstances all services (including 999/112 emergency services) will also be unavailable.

Where you use our Telephony Service without our Broadband Service then there is a greater likelihood of connectivity and quality of service problems.

Connectivity to the 999/112 emergency services will be provided only to the extent that is technically feasible. As a result, you may have to provide your location information and phone number verbally to the operator. You may not be connected to the domestic emergency service upon dialling outside of mainland England, Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland. You must register the physical location of each handset with us. This will default to the site address at which we set up the Telephony Service for you. Failure to update us with any changes will result in emergency operators unable to identify your location and phone number when you dial 999/112.

Emergency operators may or may not be able to identify your phone number in order to call you back if the call is unable to be completed, is dropped or disconnected, or if you are unable to speak to tell them your phone number and/or if the Service is not operational for any reason. Emergency operators may also not be able to hold your line open in the event that you hang up. If we suspend or terminate the Telephony Service, you may not be able to dial 999/112.

You agree to inform potential users of the Services of the above limitations and you understand and accept that you should always have an alternative means of accessing 999/112 emergency services.

What do I need to know about Mobile Services?

We are providing you with Mobile Services using approved devices, SIMs and network resources provided by our network providers both in the UK and abroad.

You must ensure that all your SIMs are used in accordance with these Terms. The SIMs remain the property of the network providers at all times and you are granted a limited license to use the SIMs to access the Mobile Services. We may recall the SIMs at any time. You must only use the SIMs in approved devices.

The Mobile Service may include premium services such as international calling and roaming. If using the Mobile Service abroad, your use of the Services may be subject to the laws and regulations that apply in that country. We are not liable for any failure to comply with those laws or regulations.

When the Mobile Service ends, we will disconnect all your SIMs and you will not be able to use the Mobile Service or make calls to the emergency services.

What do I need to know about the Leased Line Service?

Leased lines are either Ethernet in the First Mile ('EFM') or dedicated fibre circuits that either connect to the internet or connect two sites together without internet ('Point to Point'). You can also have multiple circuits to provide higher resiliency.

Leased lines are a bespoke service and installation time and costs vary from case to case. After you submit your order based upon our standard Fees, we'll need to do a site survey within 30 days of accepting your order to establish whether any additional Fees are payable. After the site survey, we'll know if any additional Fees will apply and if so, you'll need to agree to these Fees. If you don't wish to accept the Fees or you don't agree to any extra Fees within 25 days, the order will simply cancel with no cancellation fees.

If the site survey does not identify any extra Fees, the order will automatically proceed using the Fee quoted when you submitted your order. If the site survey identifies additional Fees and you accept them, the order will proceed.

As we will have already carried out the site survey on your behalf in order to begin the Service, if you wish to cancel the Service before it is installed; there will be cancellation charges which will be passed on at cost to you along with an administration fee for our time. These cancellation Fees will be applicable irrespective of the reason for your cancellation. For the avoidance of doubt, any other cancellation period as set out in these Terms does not apply to Leased Line Services.

Access to the site may be required for:

A site survey to be conducted by BT Openreach.

Broadband provision (alarm monitoring).

Fibre provisioning.

Fibre splicing.

Fibre end to end testing.

Operational testing and handover testing.

If you agree a time and date for site access or a site survey for us or our technical partner or agent for the purposes of installation and/or configuration and you subsequently refuse the survey or it is not possible we reserve the right to recover in full any costs associated with the lack of site access or cancellation of site survey.

We bill quarterly in advance for Leased Line Services and we may require you to pay the installation charges and any excess construction charges before we proceed with the installation of your Service.

Each leased line will come with a service level policy, which will be detailed in your individual contract, to ensure that any faults are rectified within a certain time frame. Where we fail to meet the service level policy for a leased line, we will issue service credits for the time you were without service in accordance with our Leased Line Service Level Policy.

What happens if you move premises?

If you change your address this contract will continue unless you exercise a right to end it in accordance with these Terms. If your new premises are in an area that's covered by our Services, then the Services will be moved to your new premises, but connection fees we reasonably incur may need to be paid.

If we are unable to provide Services to your new premises, then our standard cancellation terms of either one (1) months' notice (after the minimum term of Service) will apply.

What are your obligations?

You agree that you will at all times:

Comply fully with these Terms and any reasonable instructions we give you; Comply with the terms set out in our Fair and acceptable usage policy and ensure that any others using our Services via your account also comply;

You are responsible for the security and proper use of your username and password and you must keep your security information (such as passwords and PINs) safe and tell us immediately and change your security information if you become aware of any improper disclosure or unauthorised use of the Services through your account. If we believe that there has been, or is likely to be, a breach of security of your username or password or of the username or password of any of your additional users, we may suspend such usernames and passwords and require that any or all of them are changed;

Provide accurate information to us (especially during the ordering process) and ensure that this information is always kept up to date and accurate;

Ensure that any site that we work on is a safe working environment;

Ensure that your equipment and software complies with all applicable laws and standards and that you have any necessary licenses before you use it to connect to our network and ensure that your equipment and software is compatible with our Equipment; Agree that only you control the content you upload or download using the our services and that we have no responsibility for any such content;

Indemnify us against all losses, liabilities, costs (including legal costs) and expenses which we may incur as a result of any third party claims against us arising from, or in connection with your use or misuse of the Services or breach of these Terms; All amounts due to us shall be paid in full (without deduction or withholding except as required by law) and you shall not be entitled to assert any credit, set-off or counterclaim against us in order to justify withholding payment of any such amount in whole or in part;

From time to time, we may (without notice to you) review, record or check your use of our Services where we are required to do so to ensure compliance with any laws or regulations or where ordered to do so by any court or other body or authority with the power to require such monitoring and to ensure compliance with these Terms and the Fair and acceptable usage policy.

What are the limitations of V4 Telecom's responsibility?

Nothing in these Terms shall restrict or exclude either party's liability for fraud or for death or personal injury caused by it or its employees' or agents' negligence.

We are responsible to you for foreseeable loss and damage caused by us. If we fail to comply with these Terms, we are responsible for loss or damage you suffer that is a foreseeable result of our breaking this contract or our failing to use reasonable care and skill, but we are not responsible for any loss or damage that is not foreseeable. Loss or damage is foreseeable if either it is obvious that it will happen or if, at the time the contract was made, both we and you knew it might happen, for example, if you discussed it with us during the sales process.

If we are providing Services in your property, we will repair any damage to your property caused by us while doing so. However, we are not responsible for the cost of repairing any pre-existing faults or damage to your property that are found while providing the Services.

If you are a consumer we only supply the Services and Equipment to you for domestic and private use. If you use them for any commercial, business or re-sale purpose our liability to you will be limited as set out in this section.

Except as expressly set out in these Terms, we are not liable to pay damages for any losses caused by use of the Services or delays or interruptions. We are not liable to pay damages if anyone other than an authorised paying customer gains access to that customer's connection to our Services, that customer's computer and other related equipment or gains access to, destroys or distorts any data or information held by us.

We are not responsible for any goods or services supplied in a separate agreement with another supplier, even if access to these goods or services is through our network.

Any offer, financial or otherwise in nature is no longer valid & V4 Telecom, its officers & Directors aren't liable to honour it if signed paperwork isn't received, accepted by our finance partner & approved internally by V4 as an Account within 14 days from when the offer was originally made. Such an offer must be in writing to a Customer.

V4 Telecom, its Officers, & Directors aren't to be held liable for any financial or any other offer or claim or a statement alluding to such made by an inactive or active employee of V4 if it hasn't been accompanied by prior consent in writing by a Company Director within V4 Telecom.

If you are a business, except as set out in this section and the section called 'What are your obligations?' and except for the requirements for you to pay all Fees owing to us under these Terms, neither party's aggregate liability to the other party with respect to these Terms for any claims arising in any calendar year (whether in contract, tort, arising as a result of negligence or breach of statutory duty or otherwise) shall exceed three thousand (3,000) pounds.

If you are a business, neither party will be liable to the other for any economic loss including, without limitation, any loss of profits, anticipated savings, business, contracts, revenue, time or goodwill or loss of data whether in contract, tort, arising as a result of negligence or breach of statutory duty or otherwise or the cost of procuring substitute goods or services provided that doesn't include:

Claims for any damage to your tangible property, caused by the negligence or otherwise by any act or omission of us, our employees, agents or subcontractors, whilst on your premises. You shall at all times be under a duty to mitigate any losses suffered by you.

This section will continue to apply even after the Terms have ended and each provision of this section is to be construed as a separate provision applying and surviving even if one or more of the other provisions of this clause is held inapplicable or unreasonable.

If you are a business, there are no representations, warranties, terms or undertakings, except as expressly set out in these Terms and any others are expressly excluded, whether express or implied, statutory or otherwise.

How will we contact each other?

Maintenance cover Charge for Clients where V4 has supplied the full service hardware including but not limited to PABXs, Wi Fi Equipment etc:

Where you receive our Services and/or any Equipment as a Customer of ours, any returns on such equipment will not be accepted without our prior knowledge or written consent from V4 Telecom.

You agree to use our Services strictly for your own use and not to resell any Services without our written permission." Any maintenance cover becomes chargeable from the Month 13 of your billing cycle, unless agreed in writing on V4's signed order form otherwise & is charged to your monthly phone bill. All Maintenance cover contracts have a minimum 3-year term, & also have an early termination fee of monthly fee times remaining months payable immediately upon termination. V4's Maintenance cover is only valid if a V4 Engineer signs off a successful health check of all customer equipment V4 has supplied on site, & is deemed invalid if a 3rd party engineer is used. When a 3rd party engineer is used without V4's prior written consent, any faults, faulty equipment, replacements needed are chargeable & payable upfront to V4 Telecom. They are no longer considered included otherwise in a valid maintenance cover.

Early Termination Fees:

All services provided are subject to a 'Minimum Term' as set out on the Order Form or on our Website when you order. If not specified, for Business Clients including sole traders, partnerships & Ltd Companies, "minimum term" is always 3 years & for Residential Households, it is 2 years. The 'Minimum Term' for each service starts from the date the respective Service under the said account is live on V4's systems. After the minimum term has expired, the services will roll on a monthly basis until either party cancels or renews the contract for Businesses with less than 5 employees, or households. For Business customers of V4 with more than 10 employees, the said "minimum term" automatically rolls over for another set of 3 years & as per current industry regulations, it doesn't need your prior consent.

If you wish to cancel your services during the 'Minimum Term' other than where you have a right to end it without incurring early termination charges (see section 'What are V4 Telecoms payment terms and charges?') we may charge you a standard cancellation charge, or early termination fee's, whichever is greater in value. Unless you tell us otherwise, we may charge this amount directly to any credit or debit card which you have provided us with details of and, by entering into this contract, you are authorising us to do so. We will give you reasonable notice in writing before these charges are applied.

Early Termination Fee on all V4 Products & Services are monthly fee times remaining months unless specified otherwise in writing on a V4 document, & are always payable immediately upon request.

After the Minimum Term for a Service has elapsed, you can terminate that Service at any time without paying any early termination Fees, providing you give us one (1) months' notice of termination. Any such cancellation Fees will not exceed the charges you would have paid for the remainder of the services less our costs."

V4 Assurance

To continue an outstanding level of customer experience, we have introduced as of 01.07.2018 a new add on engineering help for V4 Clients across the board called "V4 Assurance". V4 Assurance provides an ultimate safeguard against the bill shock of unexpected engineer visit costs in case of outages, issues and fault investigations with your telephone line or internet services.

When you (the customer) reports a fault with your telephone line or internet services, V4 Telecom will report this to Openreach on your behalf. Where Openreach can't fix the fault remotely, they will send an engineer to the local exchange, and in most cases, to the customer site as well. Unfortunately, if the cause of this fault is located within the customer property or within the customer apparatus, a charge for the Openreach engineer visit (anywhere between £150 - £250 ex VAT) is applied to the next V4 monthly invoice, something we pass on to you since we get charged by Open reach as well.

If you (the customer), has opted in to be on the V4 Assurance monthly service at the minimal monthly fee of £1.99 ex VAT per month, V4 Telecom will absorb the cost of such Engineer charges incurred. This does however, exclude any other fees like missed appointments charges, time related labour charges or any extra material costs, which may have been provided by the onsite engineer. V4 Telecom will pass on the costs of engineer visits in case of missed appointments, or line faults, any materials used, any labour spent remotely or on site for the customer account unless agreed otherwise prior in writing.

Please be advised that irrespective of being on a V4 Assurance service on your monthly bill, you will still be required to complete all CPE (Customer Premise Equipment) checks as advised by a V4 Customer Experience Advisor, before an engineer is booked in and scheduled to go in for fault investigation."

via a remote connection, the technician is required to instruct the customer as to what needs to be done next to resolve the issue verbally, & if requested in writing as well.

The customer should be aware that while V4 technicians are expected to perform exceptionally and timely, certain circumstances and the nature of issues can cause resolution times to vary. V4 does not guarantee resolution times and time of resolution is not a factor impacting any money back guarantee claims registered by our customer service teams.

V4 has partnered with third-party independent engineers to provide onsite support & support any technical call outs for our Customers, when a situation or ticket registered can't be resolved over the phone or remotely. V4 is not responsible for any services rendered by the third party. V4 removes itself from all liability associated with using this third party service. V4 retains the right to assume the exclusive defence and control of any matter otherwise subject to indemnification by Customer, in which event Customers is required to cooperate in asserting any available defences.

Custom Designed Software

V4 may use custom designed software and scripts to assist in resolving an issue, reporting data system information, or automating a task. Such software may be manufactured by V4 or manufactured by a Third-party (see section titled 'Third-party Software'). To the best knowledge of V4, the software is fully licensed and breaks no laws when it is used on a customer's device. V4 is not responsible for the unlikely scenario of such software causing damage to your device's hardware or software. How the technician proceeds if this occurs is at the discretion of the support technician, supervisor, and/or manager. V4 may accept End User License Agreements on your behalf - for any V4 designed software.

Third-party Software

Oftentimes, V4 will use "third-party software" to assist in resolving an issue. "Third-party software" is software that is not manufactured by V4. Examples of this software are virus and malware removal tools. To the best knowledge of V4, the software is fully licensed and breaks no laws when it is used on a customer's device.

V4 is not responsible for the unlikely scenario of third-party software causing damage to your device's hardware or software. How the technician proceeds if this occurs is at the discretion of the support technician, supervisor, and/or manager.

V4 may accept End User License Agreements on your behalf - for third party software and any V4 branded software.

Remote Assistance

V4 uses proprietary remote assistance software to help resolve most customer issues. Remote assistance software allows the technician to remotely control a customer's device to expedite the steps needed to resolve the issue.

This software is fully licensed and breaks no laws when it is used on a customer's device. The software installs a small piece of software on the customer's device. While the software is typically harmless, V4 bears no responsibility for unforeseen negative effects that the software has on the customer's device.

A functioning internet connection is required on the device in which the technician intends to take remote control of. The lack of internet connectivity or a slow internet connection can make remote assistance impossible. In this scenario, the customer will need to follow the technician's instructions to restore the device's internet connection for the purpose of eventual remote control.

The customer bears the right to refuse a remote connection to their device. But the customer must then understand that without remote assistance, resolution of the issue will take longer and require more customer interaction & potentially the need for an on-site technician visit.

V4 also bears the right to refuse service, at its sole discretion, if a customer chooses to refuse a remote assistance connection.

Data Backup and Data Loss

V4 will make their "best effort" to salvage and secure any important data on a customer's device or notify the customer of a situation where data may be lost. However, V4 is not responsible for notifying the customer of potential data loss, backing up data, the loss of any data or the failure/inability to retrieve previously backed up data, by V4's Backup solutions & Services or any other method. Unforeseen issues may occur and V4 is not responsible for these situations during the course of our troubleshooting and support process. It is the customer's responsibility to ensure that their data is properly backed up before engaging in any support or troubleshooting with V4.

Failure to maintain current payment for any data backup services provided by V4 will automatically forfeit access to existing data backups completed by V4's Backup Service. Data backups will be deleted upon cancellation or non-payment of services. The customer does not own perpetual rights to their backed up data. Data is only accessible through the data backup service while the customer is a current, paying data backup service subscriber. V4 will also cease to complete any additional data backups. Any data loss or data backups missed are not the responsibility of V4.

Cancellation policy

The customer may cancel standard service by giving us a month notice in advance when out of contract. However, cancellation of a service does not necessarily entitle the customer to a refund. From time to time V4 may offer a service option that requires a commitment, either written or verbal, to pay and/or keep the service active for a specific period of time of up to 24 months. Should the customer wish to cancel the Contract at any point during their contract period, an early termination fee of the remainder monthly fee of the contract term would be applicable. Any dispute arising of the contract termination fee should be raised and addressed to support@v4telecom.co.uk

V4 Assurance

V4 assurance opt in addition - introduction

To continue delivering an outstanding level of customer experience to our clients, we have now introduced as of 01.07.2018 billing period a new add on service for V4 Clients across the board, termed as "V4 Assurance".

V4 assurance - description

When you (the customer) reports a fault with your telephone line or an internet service (Broadband or Fibre), a V4 Advisor would take you through all CPE (Customer Premises Equipment) checks for the first time to identify the fault and help you resolve them. However, if the fault still persists even after all CPE checks have been completed the first time, a fault is reported to Openreach for further investigation. Where Openreach can't fix the fault remotely, they will send an engineer out to the local exchange, and in most cases, to the customer site as well. However, if the cause of the fault is located within the customer property or within the customer apparatus after the NTE (Fault investigation results) which is ascertained by the Openreach Engineer, a charge for the engineer visit is levied to V4 telecom by Openreach which is then passed on to the end user (Openreach Engineer Visits cost anywhere between £150 - £250 ex VAT), a cost we reluctantly pass on to you, the customer, since we get charged by Openreach.

If you (the customer), has opted in to be on the V4 Assurance monthly service add on at the Minimal monthly fee of £1.99 ex VAT per month (Effective 01.08.2018), this changes to £2.99 ex VAT for Clients with Phone Lines & £3.99 ex VAT per month for clients with phone lines & broadband or fibre broadband services) per CLI, V4 Telecom will absorb the cost of such Engineer charges incurred for you. This does however, exclude any other fees like a missed appointments charge (the penalty cost when you miss a pre agreed booked appointment with an Openreach Engineer), any time related labour charges or any extra material costs, which may have been provided by the onsite engineer & then is passed onto your monthly bill as it's a part of the V4 Assurance addition.

Please be advised that irrespective of being on a V4 Assurance service on your monthly bill, you will still be required to complete all CPE (Customer Premise Equipment) checks the first time with alternate equipment as advised by a V4 Advisor, before it is escalated to an engineer being booked in for fault investigation." V4 Assurance is valid only for Line and broadband issues, V4 Assurance do not cover any hardware / system issues.

Acceptance or cancellation of costs & our terms of business

Upon utilization of one or more of the services offered by V4, the customer automatically accepts all the terms and policies detailed in this document & our terms of business as detailed on V4's website at v4telecom.co.uk.
